

I am glad you let me stay with you before
Christmas again this year.
I've had lots of fun hiding around the house
and making you smile from ear to ear.

As much as I have loved being a part of your family all this time,
I have to fly back to the North Pole
and let me tell you why.

Today we're having a party
to celebrate Jesus' birthday.
You see Christmas giving started with God's greatest gift
that first Christmas day.

Merry Christmas and see you next year!
